

Próis
Serious Huntwear for Real Women

Próis Hunting Apparel

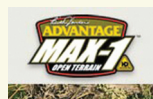

First and foremost, we at Próis Hunting are passionate about hunting. We were born from a simple concept - hunting apparel expressly designed by women, used by women and loved by women. Our designs were created to offer an athletic and technical line of huntwear that accentuates the female form and maintains a flattering look. We have taken years of hunting, sports and fitness experience to launch our unique line of hunting apparel that takes function into consideration down to the most minute detail. We are certain you will love us!

Próis was created in Gunnison, Colorado - a hunter's paradise, to be sure! We have been deeply rooted in the hunting community for many years. We are a homegrown company that is committed to fueling the passion of hunting in all women and girls. We have long recognized the difficulty women have in finding hunting apparel that fits a woman, has an athletic construction and technical composition. Historically, women could only find smaller versions of men's clothing which were ill-fitting and often a hindrance in the field. No other line of apparel has been created for women that accommodates the technical requirements and strenuous physical demands of the hunt... until now. We are committed to providing our customers with an excellent product that will be sure to compliment any hunt!

As Próis became more than just an idea, we realized that women who hunt don't just want great apparel and gear - they wanted a community of their own. A place where women can ask questions and seek advice. A place where women can share their opinions and experiences. A place where the spirit of women who are passionate and serious about hunting can thrive. Our community was born of these concepts. We want to hear from you! We want to see photos of your hunts. We want to hear your advice, tips and even your horror stories! We want to build the culture of women who are nothing short of serious about hunting. Check out our unique community page and blog at www.proishunting.com.

That said, we welcome you to Próis Hunting Apparel and the Próis Hunting community. We were built just for you!
